Story (Part One)

It was a normal day when Raju got news of a serious virus spreading in his hometown, India. He quickly packed his things and moved to the countryside with his son Manu.

To their horror, the virus had already spread throughout the entire city and people were turning into zombies. Everywhere they looked, there were signs of destruction.

They were two of the few survivors in this apocalyptic world. People were killing each other for food and other resources. Raju and Manu had to find a way to survive amidst utter chaos.

Raju and Manu soon realized that help would not come from outside as no one knew about the virus or its effects on humans. They decided to take matters into their own hands and find a way to cure the virus themselves since no one else was capable of doing so.

They started tracking down sources of information about the virus, conducted experiments, gathered supplies from abandoned stores, recruited survivors who had been really beaten Up!

They Are Two Of The last surviving humans in a world overrun by a mysterious zombie plague that has been ravaging India. While other survivors have either perished or become zombies, Raju and Manu remain immune to the virus.

They find refuge in an abandoned temple, where Raju teaches Manu to survive and protect themselves from the zombie hordes outside. He teaches Manu to hunt for food, build traps, and use weapons for defense. Despite their grim circumstances, Raju is determined to keep his son safe and teach him everything he knows about the world outside.

Meanwhile, a small group of scientists are desperately trying to find a cure for the zombie virus. They enlist Raju and Manu's help in finding new specimens to study in hopes of finding an antidote.

Raju and his son bravely venture out into the dangerous world beyond the temple walls in search of more survivors or clues that could Possibly Help Him!

-Song-

[Verse 1]

It was a day like any other

The skies were blue, the birds sang a sweet melody

But then came an evil from the night

A plague spread like a wild fire across India

[Chorus]

It's an apocalypse that hit our shore

There's no one who is safe anymore

Raju and his son Manu, they are running for their lives

Trying to survive this zombie tide

[Verse 2]

They had to escape, find a place to hide

They ran for miles, but still couldn't shake the fear inside

The streets were deserted, deserted and dark

Until Raju and Manu saw a faint spark of light

[Chorus]

It's an apocalypse that hit our shore

There's no one who is safe anymore

Raju and his son Manu, they are running for their lives

Trying to survive
